December 17: BANQUET, Year End Awards, Election and Installation of Officers. Del Webb Spruce Creek Golden Eagle County Club. Registration form on page 10 in this newsletter.

CLUB BUSINESS

The omnibus has been updated. The new edition can be found at www.stridedressage.org or www.stridedressage.com if you have a slower internet connection. While you are there, download your new member identification card; you will need it to register for upcoming shows.

The STRIDE "L" Program is now complete. Congratulations to the dedicated participants!

STRIDE now has 101 members, 23 of whom are new this year. Way to go Ms. Loretta Lucas, Membership Secretary!

The USDF Convention is being held in San Diego on November 30 through December 3. Our representatives will be Loretta Lucas, Judy Downer, and Chris Trentelman. Mr. Trentelman is our delegate.

STRIDE has an annual essay competition. It is called the Golden Oats Award, and entrants are asked to write an essay of no more than 500 words about a horse in their lives that held great significance for them. The prize is $50. Entries are due by November 1; please submit to Vice President Irene Gentile.

For the upcoming show year, STRIDE will add show classes for Western Dressage, per the USEF, which uses Morgan Horse rules. If you are interested, please consult the Western Dressage Association of America (WDAA). For the shows, a participant may choose their Test of Choice. There will be no cross entries. That is, one cannot ride a horse in regular dressage and then ride the same horse in Western dressage.

2012 Show Dates to be held at Florida Horse Park:

FLORIDA HORSE PARK TO HOST 2ND ANNUAL FALL FARM TOUR

Fall Farm Tour serves as fundraiser and educational opportunity for participants.

OCALA, Fla. – Sept. 6, 2011 – The Florida Horse Park's Second Annual Fall Farm Tour, presented by Great American Insurance Group Equine Division, is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 27, 2011, in Ocala, Fla. This year, more than 300 attendees will travel on the tour to Plumley Farms for Thoroughbred racing excitement, Fox Grove Farm with Lynn Palm to see versatility riding demonstrations, and The Sanctuary: Equine Sports Therapy & Rehabilitation Center for cutting-edge, internationally renowned equine care demonstrations.

This successful Fall Farm Tour serves as a fundraiser for the Florida Horse Park, but equally as important, it serves to share a unique, up-close view of the equine industry with an audience often unfamiliar with horses.

Ticketholders will board commercial buses at the Florida Horse Park starting at 8 a.m. and return at approximately 2 p.m. Professional guides on each bus will narrate the day's events.

Tickets retail for $50 each and include lunch, transportation and entertainment at each location. Call \(352\) 307-6699, ext. 6 for more information or for reservations.

Will you consider becoming a STRIDE officer?

By Hellena Smejda, STRIDE Treasurer

Recently I was putting together a historical chart of STRIDE officers, and found that a core group of about a dozen individuals has held these positions for the past decade or longer. Included are competitors, professionals and just plain riders.

I moved here from Illinois in 2004, where I was editor of the local Dressage/Eventing organization's newsletter for several years. Being part of IDCTA had broadened my perspective and increased my friendships. So, I immediately joined STRIDE.

Before I knew it, I became Membership Secretary, then Ad Manager, and then Treasurer. It has been a learning experience, and I have made new friends.

Very often, people are afraid to become officers, fearing that the "clique" will exclude them. But I have found in both professional (publishing and public relations) and equestrian organizations, that there are no cliques.

Rather, there are individuals who step up again and again because no one else does. And that leaves the rest of us "off the hook."

In my experience, current officers welcome with open arms those individuals who want to serve and who can bring a new perspective and energy to the organization.

Another hesitation is due to lack of time. This is a serious consideration. We have jobs, families, horses to take care of. We want to ride and show. We don't want to get involved in the "politics."

Yes. These are all valid concerns. But the fact remains: STRIDE needs officers if we are to continue.

For 2012, I'm running for President. Not because I have a lot of spare time. Granted, I board my horses, so I don't have to mow, fix fences, etc. I'm also self-employed, so I have some flexibility in time. On the other hand, I'm single and work to support myself and my horses.

I'm running because I believe that Ocalans are fortunate to have such a large Dressage and driving community. That together we can continue to improve our skills. That we can continue to provide opportunities to learn (clinics, lectures, meetings) and to test our knowledge (shows). That we can serve as a social circle for natives and newcomers. These are important "quality of life" factors we enjoy.

Would you please consider becoming an officer?

The duties as listed in our Bylaws are included here. Plus, every current officer would be happy to discuss just what time and effort is involved. Our phone and email contact info is listed on page one of this newsletter.

You can nominate yourself via email to Charlotte Trentelman: rebelridge@aol.com.

The election will be held at the December 15 general membership meeting, and the new officers installed at the end-of-year gathering and awards banquet (see invitation on page 11 of this issue).

Did you know?

Three STRIDE members have qualified for the USDF Regional Championships? The event will be held at the HITS Post Time Farm October 14 through 16. STRIDE will be sponsoring a class, as well as a tack stall for participants.

Our accomplished members include Loretta Lucas, Judy Downer, and Joanne Solch.

Congratulations, ladies, and may you have an excellent show!

Accurately Estimating Your Horse's Weight

by: Casie Bazay, BS, NBCAAM September 15, 2011, Article # 18827
<http://www.thehorse.com/Bio.aspx?ID=724>

Auburn University researchers recently examined three commonly used methods of estimating equine weights other than with a livestock scale. One commonly used method stood out as a more accurate approach.

A livestock scale is the most accurate, but often not available to most horse owners. In a current study, funded by the Alabama Horse Council, researchers weighed 145 adult horses of varying breeds and body types on a portable livestock scale. Then three commonly used methods were compared with the scale weights:

- A commercially available weight tape (following the directions on the tape);
- Using the estimation formula <http://www.thehorse.com/Tool/Weight-Calculator.aspx> : $(kg) = (\text{heartgirth}^2 \times \text{body length}) / (11,880 \text{ cm}^3)$ with length defined as "measuring from the point of shoulder to the point of buttock" (termed the "point measurement"); and
- Using the same estimation formula listed above, this time with length being defined as "measuring from the point of shoulder to the widest point of the stifle and tail when viewed from the rear" (termed the "stifle measurement").

All three of the methods used underestimated the horses' weights, however, one method had a smaller margin of error than the other two. Key findings included:

- The point measurement gave the most accurate estimates, underestimating weights by an average of 17.25 kg, or approximately 38 lbs; and
- The commercial weight tape gave the most inaccurate estimates, underestimating weights by an average of 65.81 kg, or approximately 145 lbs.

The researchers concluded, "No method is perfect, but when a scale is unavailable, the formula, where estimated weight $(kg) = (\text{heartgirth}^2 \times \text{body length}) / (11,880 \text{ cm}^3)$, appears to be the best choice for estimating body weight."
